Prez Hilding returned from his high school reunion. Mike Murphy is temporarily back in town after spending 6 months in Mexico.

Installation- Mechelle Vieira, an SLO native, was inducted as a new member. Mechelle's sponsor was Rich Carsel. She runs a home health service.

Key Club- The club had its first meeting of the school year yesterday with 3 returning students and 6 possible new members.

Joke- Roger Jump scored with a Walmart-wife funny.

Fines & Happy Bucks- Gary Simas did the honors. Prez Hilding was fined for losing the bell, Nick Anthony, who has not been inducted, losing the fine box, and not selling the new member badge to Mechelle. Roger Jump was hit for being late, whining, and interrupting an introduction. Milt Batson paid for his new Jeep. Ralph Battles gave a poor intro of our speaker. Mike Murphy was happy to be back, and Nick Anthony was happy he has survived 4 months of marriage.

Program- Our speaker was Mike diMilo, education program coordinator of the Integrative Waste Management Authority (IWMA). It collects about 805 tons of waste daily which it dumps into 3 landfills in the county. Its goal is to divert 90% of this from the landfills. It has programs that divert hazardous and electronic waste, food waste, and construction materials. It sponsors take-back programs for paint batteries, fluorescent lights, and sharps at local retail outlets. It advises smart shopping by buying products which have been recycled or whose packaging can be recycled.
